CEO Commentary

“We are delighted to welcome all the new directors to the Board,” said Mr. Grimshaw, Chief Executive Officer. “Collectively, they bring a diversity of skills and experience that will support our current business, as well as our strategic initiatives. We are confident that their skills, substantial business experience, leadership qualities and freshness of perspective will contribute significantly to the overall effectiveness of our Board and should be instrumental in creating value for our company and our shareholders.

“Further, this reorganization represents a significant enhancement of the independence of the Board. We will have eight of ten directors who are independent under the applicable Nasdaq rules and have no prior connection or association with the company, any member of management or the controlling shareholder prior to joining the Board. We believe the presence of eight independent directors will enhance the ability of the Board to represent objectively the interests of all shareholders.”
